2. Formerly known as Northside Elementary School (1956-1958) and Sunset Hills Elementary School (1958-1988)
3. Teacher- Principal
4. Formerly known as Shenandoah Elementary (1969-1992).
5. Leon Springs was originally a three-room school. Records indicate that it was supervised by a teacher-principal from 1955-1960. From 1961-1970 it was under the supervision of the Helotes Principal. It closed in 1970. It was reopened in 1973 and served as an alternative high school from 1973 to 1976 and as a pre-kindergarten school in 1986-1987. It was subsequently demolished to allow construction of a new elementary school (also named Leon Springs), which opened in 1991.
6. Leon Valley was one of the original elementary schools existing at the time of the district's formation. After an expansion of the campus, the original building at Grissom and Bandera served as the Central Office until 1965. A new Leon Valley Elementary built on Huebner Road opened in 1980. From 1981 to 1993 the original Leon Valley campus housed the Mackey Developmental Center (relocated from its original site). This special education program was relocated to a new facility (Reddix Center) in 1993. Subsequently, the original Leon Valley facility was renamed the Northside Learning Center and houses a variety of programs.

7. Locke Hill Elementary relocated from its original site on I.H. 10 to a new facility on De Zavala Road in 1975.
8. Mackey was originally a six-room elementary school. Records indicate that it was supervised by a teacher-principal from 1955-61. From 1961-1965 it was under the supervision of the Cable Principal. From 1965-1980 it served as a special education school. It became a secondary alternative school in 1983 and continues in that role to the present time, although there were several variations in terms of grades served.
9. Formerly known as Thunderbird Hills Elementary (1962-1992)
10. Formerly known as Forest Hills Elementary (1968-1991)
11. West San Antonio Heights began in 1934 as a one-room school for African-American students. In 1955, African-American high school students were enrolled in Northside High School. Most African-American students in grades 1-8 continued to attend West San Antonio Heights until 1966, although some attended their neighborhood school. In 1966 all African-American students began attending neighborhood schools. From 1966-1975, it housed a kindergarten program for disadvantaged students. It was renamed Delores Linton Kindergarten from 1972-75. It was closed in 1975-76. From 1976-1996 it housed Compensatory Education administrative and support staff. From 1996-97 to 2018, it housed the Northside Alternative Middle School (South).
12. Provided oversight as Compensatory Education Supervisor
13. Provided oversight as Principal of Cable Elementary (1970-71) and Forest Hills Elementary (1971-1975).

Notes:
1. In 1955-56, eighth graders were taught in a building on the Northside High School (now Marshall HS) site, and seventh graders were taught on elementary campuses. There was no official Jr. High in 1955-56. In 1956-57, Northside Jr. High was established in a separate building on the high school campus, serving grades 7-8. This program continued through 1961-62. In its last year of existence, it was renamed Sul Ross Jr. High. The school name Sul Ross was later assigned to a new school which opened in 1966.

Notes:

1. The Nellie Reddix Center opened in 1993. It housed two programs which had previously existed as separate campuses (See notes 2 and 3). Each continued to have separate administrative leadership until 2008.
2. The Northside Vocational Transition Center was originally known as Mackey Special Education School and was located on the original Mackey Elementary Campus from 1965-1980. It was located on the original Leon Valley Elementary Campus from 1980-1993. It moved to the Reddix Center in 1993. In 2008 the program merged with the Northside Habilitation Center under the direction of the Nellie Reddix Principal.
3. The Northside Habilitation Center was originally located at the Cerebral Palsy Center. The name changed in 1981 to Children's Habilitation Center. The program relocated to the Reddix Center in 1993 and was renamed Northside Habilitation Center. In 2008 the program merged with the Northside Vocational Transition Center under the direction of the Nellie Reddix Principal.
4. Lead teacher.
5. The Holmgreen Center serves emotionally disturbed secondary students. The program began in 1973, was known as the Secondary Alternative Learning Center, and was located in the original three-room Leon Springs Elementary School. In 1976, it relocated to the original Locke Hill Elementary campus and was renamed Northside Opportunity Center. In 1987, it relocated to its current site and was renamed Holmgreeen Jr.-Sr. High School. The name was changed to the Holmgreen Center in 2008.
6. The Northside Secondary Alternative School opened in 1983 at the site of the original Mackey Elementary.
7 The Northside Alternative Middle School (South) opened in 1996-97 on the site of the original West San Antonio Heights School. It served the entire District the first year. Beginning the second year, it served the southern half of the District.
8. The Northside Alternative Middle School (North) opened in 1997-98 on the site of the original Locke Hill Elementary.
9. The North and South Alternative Middle Schools merged into the Northside Alternative Middle School on the site of the Alternative Middle School (North).
